

GERMANY'S REFUSAL TO MEET DEMANDS OF UNITED STATES PRODUCES GRAVE SITUATION

SECRETARY LANSING WILL GO TO CORNISH TO CONFER WITH PRESIDENT WILSON

Unanimous Verdict of High Officials Is That Reply Leaves Situation Exactly at the Point Where It Was in the Days Immediately Following Sinking of Lusitania—Refuse to Predict Action U. S. Will Take.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Official Washington takes a grave view of the situation produced by Germany's refusal to meet the demands of the United States growing out of the Lusitania with a loss of more than 100 Americans.

Burden Rests On Wilson.

Upon President Wilson rests the burden of deciding the policy which the United States is to follow. Quietly and carefully he is considering the situation, it was stated at the white house after telephone conversations with the president at Cornish, N. H., and the country may expect him to act with "deliberation as well as firmness" when he has examined all phases of the problem.

Lansing Withholds Comment.

Secretary Lansing withheld comment. As soon as the complete official text of the German reply arrives, which will be tomorrow, he will begin a careful study of it and on Monday or Tuesday will go to Cornish for a conference with the president. The president will then return to lay before the cabinet the course upon which he has determined.

Will Not Predict Action.

What action the United States will take, officials today would not predict with certainty. Some of those who have been familiar with the president's point of view and with the details of the present situation, however, pointed out that there seemed to be but one course open with dignity and honor to the United States—the continued assertion and exercise of the rights of neutrals on the high seas in accordance with the established principles of international law.

Responsibility Would Fall on Berlin.

Responsibility for any rupture in friendly relations which might subsequently ensue between the United States and Germany, it was declared, would then fall upon the Berlin government.

There is as yet no definite crystallization of opinion among officials as to details, but the distinct tendency is toward a reiteration not only in a formal note but in actual practice of the principles for which the United States has been contending. The unanimous verdict of high officials was that the German reply was thoroughly unsatisfactory and leaves the situation exactly at the point where it was in the days immediately following the sinking of the Lusitania.

Cannot Abandon Demands.

While the continued exercise of American rights in the future is urged as a logical course to be followed it is recognized also that the United States cannot abandon the demands it has made for the disavowal of intent to drown Americans and the question of reparation.

Germany's refusal on these points may lead it to be believed to steps by the United States to show its disapproval of the last note. Whether Ambassador Gerard might be recalled or a complete severance of diplomatic relations ordered was again discussed. In the absence of word from the president no definite indication of what might be done eventually was obtainable.

Will Probably Send Note.

Before taking any definite step, officials declared, the American government would probably send a note to Germany formally rejecting the proposal to permit the unrestricted use of American passenger ships or four hostile merchantmen under the American flag provided they carried no munitions of war. In the same note formal notification probably would be given to the German government of the intention of the United States to continue to exercise its rights with the announced expectation that they would be respected.

Little Disposition to Hurry.

There is little disposition in official quarters to hurry a decision on the momentous questions involved. Since the negotiations began two months ago, it was pointed out, the United States virtually has been using the high seas in accordance with its views on international law and there have been no belligerent ships carrying Americans torpedoed without warning. Since German submarine commanders have made their practice square with international law to that extent, officials do not believe the refusal of the German government itself to give explicit assurances will be followed by any overt acts involving further loss of American lives.

The controlling factor in the situation according to indications in official quarters is the attitude the United States should take as result of the Lusitania tragedy itself. It is that which is giving officials most concern.

Fraught with Grave Possibilities.

There was no denial in any quarter that the general situation is fraught with grave possibilities.

On the law of the case the American position was held by officials to be absolutely impregnable because it was founded on the well-recognized principles by which nations have long been guided. A deadlock has been reached, it was declared, on the legal interpretations respectively held by Germany and the United States on submarine warfare as affecting the rights of neutrals. The question seemed to most officials now rather one of national policy involving the settlement of whether the continued insistence on American rights would develop a situation menacing the peace of the United States or whether a passive acquiescence in the German point of view would embarrass the American government in its relations with other nations. Many neutral nations have indicated informally to the United States that they looked to this country to uphold neutral rights under international law and their envoys here were alert tonight for information concerning the probable course of the United States so that their foreign offices might be promptly advised.

Read Comment With Interest.

Editorial comment of American newspapers was read with deep interest by officials and there was satisfaction when it was learned that apparently the newspaper attitude coincided with the official view here—that the German suggestions could not be accepted.

Outwardly executive quarters displayed the normal half holiday air of quiet. Secretary Lansing spent the afternoon at home at work on memoranda on the situation. Secretary Tumulty was in frequent communication by telephone with President Wilson.

The date of Mr. Lansing's departure for Cornish with the official text of the reply has not been decided.

Wilson Awaits Official Text.

Cornish, July 10.—President Wilson tonight was awaiting the arrival here of the official text of the latest German note before definitely deciding what the position of the United States would be and before determining whether he would hurry back to Washington to discuss the question with members of his cabinet.

On a conference to be held here next week between the president and Secretary Lansing largely will depend what Mr. Wilson will decide to do. Secretary Lansing plans to bring with him to Cornish, the official text of the note and will remain here long enough to discuss the situation thoroughly.

The latest word received here tonight was that the German note would be in Washington and decided by Monday morning.

Secretary Lansing will come fully prepared to go into the diplomatic precedents of the situation with the president, but Mr. Wilson himself will determine the broad outlines of the policy to be pursued.

There is a possibility that the president and Mr. Lansing will be able fully to determine upon the course of the United States during their conference here and that there fore the president will not feel it necessary to return to Washington immediately. At any rate it was said tonight that it was improbable that he would return in time for the usual cabinet meeting Tuesday morning.

MINERS STRIKE.

Pineville, Ky., July 10.—Eight hundred miners working in the coal mines operated by the Continental Coal company, struck today for a ten per cent increase in wages.

Editorial Comment On German Reply

Star.—(Kansas City, Mo.)—The German reply is admirably polite. But the proposals do not meet the situation. The United States is defending neutral rights from infringement by both England and Germany. If it permits one belligerent to violate them it will have no defense against the violations by the other.

Times (Shreveport, La.)—The German note evades the issue just as was done in the reply to the first note.

Illinois Staats Zeitung (Chicago)—If the German reply to the American note will be read neither with animosity nor with prejudice it will be clear to our government, as well as to the people of the United States that Germany is endeavoring to meet the demands of this country half way and that she never had and never entertains any inclination of doing harm to American interests and to endanger American life.

Register (Des Moines, Iowa)—The Register confidently believes that a vast majority of the people of America do not consider themselves sufficiently injured to resort to arms.

Post (Washington, D. C.)—Germany has shown that she is anxious to avoid doing further injury to Americans and that after all, is the main thing.

Herald (Washington, D. C.)—It (the German reply) emphasizes the utter hopelessness of further diplomatic exchanges. President Wilson has to decide between the abandonment of his lofty position in defense of humanity, civilization and the rights of Americans and an ultimatum that he must be prepared to sustain.

Rocky Mountain News-Times (Denver, Colo.)—The second answer from Germany to the American protest is a subterfuge—a diplomatic snub to this nation.

World-Herald (Omaha, Neb.)—One fact that stands out prominently and that affords encouragement is that the German government is sincerely desirous of prosecuting its submarine warfare in such a way as will afford the maximum of immunity to American ships and American passengers.

Oregonian (Portland, Ore.)—The reply of Germany to President Wilson's note of June 9th, destroys the high hopes that Germany had been brought to a reasonable frame of mind. The terms which Germany offers to the United States fall in the same class as those which Austria offered to Serbia.

Spokane-Review (Spokane, Wash.)—The German note is intolerable.

Republic (St. Louis)—The German note fails wholly to offer any reparation for the measureless wrongs sustained by innocent American citizens who took passage on the Steamer Lusitania. The American people have marked with emphatic approval the president's stand for the plain rights of the traveling in the merchant vessels of belligerents. The nation will stand with him as he proceeds to the words and acts necessary to sustain them.

News-Bee (Toledo)—Painful surprise followed the discovery that Germany justifies the destruction of the Lusitania.

Germany remains so firm ***** in her latest reply that a nation less aggressive and less tolerant than the United States might call it quits and have no more to do with her.

Times (Toledo)—The text of the German note is far from containing paragraphs which would tend to invoke the United States to war.

Volksblatt (Cincinnati)—Germany offers to guarantee the lives of American passengers and we cannot see how the president can refuse to accept the offer.

Ohio State Journal (Columbus, O.)—Germany's answer to President Wilson's second note is not conclusive nor satisfactory.

Sun (Baltimore)—The note from Berlin is a dove like cooling meaning nothing at all.

German correspondent (Baltimore)—If there should have been a need for further proof of the fact that Germany honestly desires to sustain the friendly relations with the United States, the German answer to the American note should supply this proof.

Courier-Journal (Louisville)—The German answer would carry better persuasion, if it could be considered wholly and apart as an expert statement. That the English orders in council were violations of neutrality rights under international law and usage was made manifest by the protests of our government. Unfortunately the course pursued by Germany made it needful before proceeding with the protest to meet a more immediate and dangerous assault.

War News Summarized

Consideration of Germany's reply to the American note on submarine warfare is expected to be begun by President Wilson within a day or two, it being planned to have Secretary of State Lansing take the document to the executive at Cornish, N. H. Official comment on the note is withheld in Washington. Berlin editorial expressions regarding the reply are keyed in a tone of unqualified praise for the note.

In all the vast field of European warfare comparative quiet has prevailed, so far as the official reports reveal.

German submarines, continuing their operations, have sent three more merchant ships to the bottom. Coincidentally comes the statement from a London naval correspondent that he has identified the German battleship sunk by a British submarine in the Baltic on July 2 as the Pomern, a 13,200-ton vessel.

Rome is making preparations to meet attacks by German Zepplins, which, according to reports, have been taken to the Austrian Adriatic coast for a raid on the Italian capital.

The British chancellor of the exchequer announced that the great new war loan had been supported in a way that justified expectations.

An unofficial dispatch received from Nish, Serbia, by way of Rome, states that the Serbian National Assembly has voted a credit of $50,000,000 for the continuation of military operations. The Serbians, it is said, intend to undertake an offensive movement soon along the Danube-Save sector.

New troops are being concentrated by Austria and Hungary at Sarajevo and Semlin.

The Montenegrin army, it is said, will march with the Serbians into Herzegovina.

LUCEY DECLARES RUSSEL WILL RE-OPEN OFFICE MONDAY

Attorney General Makes Statement After Carefully Reading Bills Filed to Stop Payment of Appropriations.

Springfield, Ill., July 10.—"State Treasurer Russel will reopen his office Monday and pay out warrants as usual," declared Attorney General P. J. Lucey tonight, after carefully reading the bills filed yesterday in the Sangamon county circuit court asking that the state treasurer be enjoined from disbursing nearly $2,000,000 appropriated by the recent session of the legislature.

State officers today profess to have discovered the alleged animus of the suits which were filed by Fayette S. Munro of Highland Park, a member of the 48th general assembly. They claim that Munro was interested in a $200,000 appropriation bill for the purchase of a timber tract in Ogle county, to be used as a state park, and that he bitterly denounced the chairmen of the appropriations committees of the house and senate when the bill was killed.

Twenty-two watchmen in the employ of the state were told this afternoon by Secretary of State Stevenson that their services would have to be dispensed with pending the suits which tie up the appropriations for watchmen's salaries. Tonight members of Secretary Stevenson's clerical staff are doing guard duty at the state capitol.

FIREMAN IS FATALLY INJURED WHEN C. H. & D. ENGINE OVERTURNS

DECATUR, Ill., July 10.—Fireman C. A. Ramsey of Springfield was perhaps fatally injured and Engineer Olan Combs of Indianapolis, Ind., miraculously escaped when C. H. & D. Engine No. 318, overturned near Mt. Auburn, Ill., at 3:30 Saturday afternoon.

Ramsey was caught under the tank of the engine and was not released for an hour and forty-five minutes. Both legs were broken. Combs jumped and saved his life. The engine turned over when it struck a road crossing which was filled up with dirt and gravel, washed there by a heavy rain.

RECOVER THREE MORE BODIES. Cincinnati, O., July 10.—The finding of the body of an unidentified white man believed to be a member of the crew of the towboat Convoy late today confirmed in the minds of the police authorities the belief that all the missing men on that boat had been drowned in the storm Wednesday night. Two other bodies were also recovered from the river tonight, bringing the known dead up to 36.

UNIVERSALISTS ELECT.

Pasadena, Cal., July 10.—The Universalist general convention elected officers today, chose Worcester, Mass., as the city for the next annual meeting and passed a resolution calling on President Wilson to have neutral nations form a board of mediation to settle the European war.

BRYAN IN SANTA CRUZ.

Santa Cruz, Calif., July 10.—W. J. Bryan, former secretary of state who came here yesterday as the guest of Charles C. Moore, president of the Panama-Pacific Exposition left tonight for Los Angeles.

ENGLAND VIEWS GERMAN REPLY AS HYPOCRITICAL

NOTE IS SUBJECT OF GENERAL DISCUSSION THROUGHOUT COUNTRY

Public Continues to Interest Itself in Huge War Loan — Russians Claim to Be Delivering Smashing Blows to Austrians in Southern Poland.

London, July 10.—The German reply to the American note, a summary of which appeared in the London afternoon papers, is the subject of general discussion throughout England and again the question is asked, "What will America do?"

The views held here are indicated in the newspaper headings, which describe the reply as "An amazing offer," "Impudent claims," "Hypocritical reply." The text of the German reply, which was received in London through New York, is published in the Sunday morning papers, most of which treat it as the most important news of the day.

Public Interest Itself in Loan. Outside of this the public continues to interest itself in England's huge war loan, subscriptions to which are still being received by mail and with which the chancellor of the exchequer has expressed his satisfaction. The general expectation today was that total subscription would reach between $3,000,000,000 and $3,500,000,000, although some expressed confidence that the full $5,000,000,000 would be received and that it would not be necessary to continue to sell to small subscribers through the post-office, which is the government's present intention.

There is little news from southern Poland where the Russians, according to their account, are delivering smashing blows at the army of Archduke Joseph Ferdinand. Apparently General Von Mackensen, who is covering the Austrian advance on the right, between the Krassik region and the Bug river, has been unable to render any assistance or has withdrawn some of his troops for an attack elsewhere.

Expect Frontal Attack on Warsaw. There are those who believe that the next German stroke will be a frontal attack on Warsaw, despite the failure of the Austro-Germans on two previous occasions to break the Russian front on the Bzura and Rawa rivers. Others are of the opinion that the Austro-Germans are awaiting the arrival of guns to make another thrust forward toward the Lublin railway and attempt to outflank Warsaw from the south-east.

The fighting elsewhere, such as that at Osovetz, shows that both sides are alive to the necessity of watching for surprises along the whole line.

French Warfare Continues.

French warfare continues incessantly in the west, but the official statements issued by the respective war departments do not indicate any change in the situation. There is a report tonight from Chlasso that the Italians have won a battle which has been raging for six days on the Corso plateau and that after fierce charges by the Italian infantry they captured many Austrian positions and several thousand prisoners. The report says the prisoners passed through Milan this morning.

ESTIMATE BOOTY AT $60,000.

New Orleans, La., July 10.—While federal authorities here are reticent concerning the amount of booty obtained by bandits who held up a Louisville & Nashville train near Greenville, Ala., early today, the Times-Picayune tomorrow will say that it was learned from an apparently reliable, but confidential source that a large sum of money and several packages of jewelry were taken. Estimates place the amount at from $60,000 to $100,000.

WILL VISIT HOMES OF MEN.

Chicago, July 10.—Mayor William Hale Thompson purposes gathering first hand information about conditions under which street carmen live from the women who have to keep house on their wages. The mayor, who is the third arbitrator in the dispute between the street car company and its men, said today he would begin his visits to the homes of the men the first of the week. Mrs. Thompson probably will accompany him and it is also possible to proceed as secretly as possible.

U. S. TO AID FALING LOBSTER INDUSTRY

Woods Hole, Mass., July 10.—United States government experts, with those of the various states interested in the lobster industry, will meet here on Monday, at the government hatchery and laboratory. Secretary Redfield, who called the meeting, is aware of the unsatisfactory conditions along the coasts and the present lagging condition of the lobster industry. The government has already taken the matter up to the extent of establishing artificial propagation of the cohoesme crustaceans, not only for the Atlantic coast, but also for the Pacific coast. The lobster catch is declining from year to year, and the experts will take up all phases of the industry, and suggest regulations and measures which will bolster up this important source of food.

GEN. GONZALEZ' ARMY OCCUPIES MEXICO CITY

INFORMATION IS GIVEN AMERICAN CONSULAR OFFICERS AT VERA CRUZ

Silliman Reports That Carranza Commander Has Established His Headquarters at Guadalupe — Villa Forces Lose Monclova.

Washington, July 10.—General Pablo Gonzalez has occupied Mexico City, according to information given by Carranza officials to American consular officers at Vera Cruz tonight.

No Details Are Given.

No details were given in the messages which reached here late tonight, but the advices were regarded as probably correct, as the Carranza forces have been reported earlier in the day as in the outside districts of the city itself. Whether any fighting took place in the streets or the Zapata forces had evacuated was not stated.

Early reports to the state department tonight indicated that the opposing forces are facing each other in the outer streets of the city. Consul Silliman reported General Gonzalez has established his headquarters at Guadalupe, the first station out of Mexico City on the line of Mexican railway only a few miles from the city terminal of the road.

Advance Against Piedras Negras.

The fall of Monclova, in the state of Coahuila, was reported tonight by the Carranza agency, which said its dispatches reported that Villa defenders had been routed after a pitched battle. An advance against Piedras Negras was in progress, the statement said, and there was panic in the city. It was said a Villa force of 300 had been captured.

Charles A. Douglas of this city, legal advisor to Gen. Carranza, who is now in Vera Cruz, telegraphed the Carranza agency here that after an investigation he had sent to Secretary Lansing a statement of facts in the interest of truth as to the food situation. In Vera Cruz, he said, there was no disposition to obstruct the work of the Red Cross, "but there is a feeling that its work is not needed in the city, however great its needs may be elsewhere."

In Vera Cruz demand for labor exceeds the supply," he adds, "and wages are good."

SMALL TORNADO WRECKS MANY BUILDINGS NEAR DECATUR; ONE HURT

DECATUR, Ill., July 10.—One man was severely injured, probably fatally, when a small tornado wrecked thousands of dollars' worth of buildings on farms northwest of Decatur at noon today. L. Provost was in his orchard when the storm suddenly uprooted a big tree, which fell upon him. Another man was carried a block and landed in a ditch. He was knocked unconscious but was otherwise uninjured. Barns and outbuildings were wrecked and the debris carried for miles. In one instance a barn was lifted over two fences and two cows in it were uninjured. Crops suffered, corn and oats being flattened to the ground.

During the second week target practice with the ships guns will be carried out.

Trinidad, Colo., July 10.—Arguments on the motion for a new trial for John R. Lawson, International board member of the United Mine Workers of America convicted of the murder of John Nimmo, a deputy sheriff, was concluded before Judge Grandby Hillyer. A ruling is expected Monday.

ARCHBISHOP QUIGLEY DIES IN ROCHESTER

Body Will Be Taken to Chicago Monday—Funeral Services Tuesday

WAS ORDAINED IN ROME

Prelate Materially Improved System of Catholic Education in Chicago

WILL BE BURIED IN CHICAGO

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 10.—James Edgar Quigley, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Chicago, died today at 5:20 p. m., at the home of his brother here, Chief of Police Joseph M. Quigley.

Will Be Buried in Chicago.

The body of the archbishop will lie in state tomorrow and Monday in St. Patrick's cathedral here guarded by members of the Knights of Columbus and Knights of St. John. The body will be taken to Chicago Monday and after ceremonies on Tuesday will be buried there. Monsignor John Bonzano of Washington, apostolic delegate, and other prelates from many parts of the country, will be present at the ceremonies.

Death came this afternoon a few hours after physicians reported that one of the prelate's lungs had been completely affected. One of the physicians said tonight that death had resulted from paralysis, pneumonia and oedema (filling up) of the lungs.

The most Reverend James Edward Quigley, archbishop of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Chicago, was known as a profound logician, a scholar and a linguist, and one of the most unostentatious and conservative prelates of the Catholic church in the United States.

He was born in Oshawa, Ontario, Canada, in 1854. While an infant his parents moved to Lima, New York, and when he was 3 years old the family home was established in Rochester, N. Y. He was the eldest son of a large family and a relative, Rev. Edward Quigley of Buffalo, took a great interest in him and directed his education from his first school days.

Under the direction of the Christian Brothers at Niagara University he pursued his studies at St. Joseph college, Buffalo. From there he went to the University of Innsbruck, Austria, and completed his student career in Rome at the College of Propaganda, where Cardinal Francis Sattoli, the first papal delegate to the United States, was one of his instructors. There he received the degree of doctor of divinity.

At one time he came near diverting from his career in the church. In 1872 he passed with highest honors an examination for West Point but yielding to the advice of his friends he decided to enter the priesthood.

In 1879 he was ordained at Rome by Cardinal Lavelletta. The young priest at once returned to the United States and was assigned to active work at Attica, N. Y. He was there only a short time when he was made rector of St. Joseph's Cathedral in Buffalo, N. Y., where he remained 12 years.

He succeeded to the pastorate and irremovable rectorship at St. Bridget's church, Buffalo, in 1895, after the death of the vicar-general of the diocese. After the death of Bishop Ryan of Buffalo in the same year he was chosen his successor. The following year he was consecrated bishop.

In the longshoremen's union strike in Buffalo in 1898 he served as arbitrator and after ten days negotiations the strike was settled on the lines laid down by Bishop Quigley. He was a vigorous foe of socialism among the labor unions of Buffalo.

He was ordained Archbishop of Chicago Jan. 8, 1903, succeeding Patrick A. Feehan. In assuming this responsible post he had charge of 300 churches, 13 colleges and academies, 6 orphan asylums, 16 hospitals, one theological seminary, two universities and several convents and monasteries. He always took a deep interest in the causes of church extension and education. Among the important things accomplished by Archbishop Quigley in Chicago was:

Divided his parishes so as to lessen overcrowding.

Materially improved the system of Roman Catholic education in Chicago.

Created boards of laymen trustees in each parish to supervise finances.

Made certain the creation of the Diocese of Rockford by surrendering territory tributary to his own archdiocese.

Appointed Bishop Paul Peter Rhode as his auxiliary, the first Polish bishop named in the United States.

Called the first missionary congress of the Roman Catholic church ever held in this country. It was held in Chicago in 1903.

LAW PROVIDES METHOD FOR ERASING NAMES FROM PETITION

Written Request Must Be Sent City Clerk Before Petition Is Filed if This Is Accomplished.

The petitions which have been in circulation for the past week asking for a vote on the adoption of the aldermanic form of government have had a great many signers and it is understood from Mr. Hairgrove that the required number of names will be secured very soon and the petitions placed on file. Meanwhile there have been a number of inquiries from persons who signed the petition stating that they wished to withdraw their names, giving as reasons either that they had changed their opinion upon the question or did not fully understand all the points involved.

The commission form of government law specifies that the only way a person who signs a petition can legally withdraw his name is to address a letter to the city clerk stating that the writer has signed a certain petition and wishes to withdraw his signature. In such a letter is received before the petition is filed, then it becomes the duty of the city clerk to take the name from the petition. If the letter of request is received subsequent to the filing of the petition nothing can then be done about the matter by the clerk.

MAVERICKS

Just a little sunshine, just a little rain; that's the way the words run in an old refrain. But there's lots of changes brought by Father Time; now the sun's quit shining, it's raining all the time. What's the use of crying about the rain and mud; why not be contented like the cow and calmly chew your cud? You should thank your Maker from the bottom of your heart that it hasn't rained so much you'd have to build an ark, and go sailing round the country, as Noah did of old, and maybe get hay fever and other summer colds. If you just think you're lucky, why things for you will break, and you'll have fried chicken on Sunday and the rest of the week chuck steak.

ARCTIC NAVIGATORS OFF TO MAC MULLEN'S RELIEF

Schooner George B. Cluett, Loaded With Supplies, Is On Way to Etah.

St. Johns, N. F., July 10.—Through the vast fields of snow and ice, where giant icebergs form and drift southward, the staunch little schooner George B. Cluett, loaded with supplies and comforts, is plowing its way to Etah. At this famous base for Arctic exploration from which Peary made his famous dash to the pole, are Donald B. MacMillan and his fellow scientists who made up the Crocker land expedition which journeyed into the farthest north two years ago. The Cluett will bring back the explorers and their records and the map of the Arctic will again go under revision.

The Cluett is a three-masted schooner of some 200 tons, which was given by George B. Cluett, the collar manufacturer, to the Labrador relief work of Greenfell. She is captained by George Comer of Connecticut, a whaler of 40 years' experience, who ranks with Capt. John Bartlett as an Arctic skipper. Dr. Edmund O. Hovey is in charge of the relief expedition, as a representative of the American Museum of Natural History. The vessel was given her final touching up at Battle Harbor, Labrador, this week before sailing. The crew consists of ten men, including two mates and an engineer. The little schooner should reach Etah by August 1 and reach New York with her scientists and trophies early in September.

The members of the expedition which conducted the supposedly hopeless search for Crocker Land during the past two years are: Donald B. MacMillan, one of Peary's aides during the successful quest for the pole, 39 years old, a graduate of Bowdoin College, in Maine.

W. Elmer Ekblaw, geologist of the expedition, also a botanist, a native of Illinois and graduate of the University of Illinois.

Maurice C. Tanquary, zoologist of the expedition, a native of Illinois and also a graduate of the University of Illinois.

Ensign Fitzhugh Green, U. S. N., a native of Missouri, graduate of the naval academy, engineer and physicist of the party.

Dr. Harrison J. Hunt, surgeon of the expedition, a graduate of Bowdoin college.

Jerome L. Allen, wireless operator.

Jonathan C. Small, mechanic and general aid.

The prime object of the expedition sent into the far north two years ago under MacMillan was to prove or disprove the existence of Crocker Land. Through communications from MacMillan and Ekblaw received via Copenhagen, this stretch of land reported and mapped by Peary is declared to have been a mirage and does not exist. The second object was a survey of Greenland Ice Cap, procuring geological and biological and also meteorological specimens, and to make a geographical study of the section covered.

To finance the expedition, $70,000 was subscribed. It was organized under the auspices of the American Museum and the American Geographical Society, with the co-operation of the University of Illinois. Others who contributed to the fund were Yale, Colgate, Harvard, Bowdoin, New York, Academy of Science, Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Ogden Mills, Zenas Crane, Mrs. C. B. Alexander, Jacob H. Schiff, John E. Thayer and the late Mrs. Mirris K. Jessup.

Etah, where the explorers are awaiting the rescue party, is a group of rocks at the upper end of Greenland. The ice sets in the latter part of August, and by the middle of September it is frozen hard. It is therefore necessary to make time, and any unforeseen accident to the little schooner will be a serious blow to the success of the rescue mission. There is a full year's supply of provisions aboard the Cluett, and many comforts and luxuries for the scientists who have been living in the bleak, frozen north.

MacMillan's report on Crocker Land was received last month by way of Copenhagen, in a letter of the American Museum of Natural History. He wrote: "Crocker Land, reported seen by Peary in 1906, does not exist. I succeeded in covering the whole distance of 1200 miles in 72 days. To us, standing on the heights of Cape Thomas Hubbard, and for several days on the polar sea, there was every appearance of an immense tract of land extending along 120 degrees of longitude, with hills, valleys and snow-capped peaks. Further travel toward the northwest caused it to change its direction with the revolving of the sun. It constantly varied in extent and character and finally, on our last march, it disappeared entirely."

MacMillan reported that his party had found records and piece of an American flag left by Peary. He said that for the present year he planned a 1500 mile trip to explore the region south of Ellef and Amund Ringnes Land, and should be back at Etah in June.

BETTER CONDITIONS HERE.

Mayor Rodgers has returned from a trip which took in Springfield, Mo., among other places. He says that down as far as Godfrey things in general look fairly well, though of course there are everywhere evidences of too much rain, but below that place conditions are very bad. Western Kansas, Minnesota, South Dakota and many other localities all report worse conditions than prevail here. John Rice, now residing in Idaho, reports good conditions, only they lack rain, and we would like to spare them a part of our surplus.

Alonso Wood of Ashland was transacting business in the city Saturday.

FARMERS USE BEST POSSIBLE MEANS TO SAVE CROPS

Rainy Season Has Made New Methods of Work Necessary—Meeting Conditions.

A well known local citizen has summed up the farming situation in Morgan and adjoining counties in the following article:

"The general belief that the true American would surmount most any kind of obstacles, is set out very well in the way that the farmers of the country are handling the farming proposition in face of all the rains and storms that we have been having. There are very few people in the city who realize what their country brothers are putting up with at this time. If one of our city dames had to go out to the chicken house in mud and water up to her ankles, she would think it indeed a hard proposition, but when her liege lord has to till his crops in mud up to his horses' knees, she would think it was awful. That is exactly what the farmers of the country are doing today, at least the ones who expect to have corn and who are farming as a farmer ought to.

"Perhaps the people's example of 'Bull-headed-stick-to-it-ness' today, is the way they are gathering in their small grain. All over the country are thousands of acres of wheat which have not as yet had a reaper or binder turned into them for the very simple reason that the ground is too soft to hold the machine up. In many places they are taking out the large wheel known as the pull wheel from their binder and substituting a beer keg with a hole through the ends for the axle. A light gasoline engine operates the cutting and binding of the machine, and the horses simply drag the machinery across the fields. In one of the ranches below Hillview, Mr. Baxter of the firm of Colton & Baxter, built a large wooden shoe on which the pull wheel was fastened. The gasoline engine was attached to the machine and the whole thing simply skidded over the grain. In many places they are using common road scrapers for this purpose. Several of the hardware stores have sent in orders for the old fashioned cradle, and in many places the farmers are simply mowing the wheat and stacking it loose wherever they can get a day or two, for it to dry.

"In the south end of Pike county, only ten men could be found in quite a large district, who were able or knew how to swing a cradle, and these men had not done the work for so many years that they would not attempt to stand up to it for any length of time. In fact, most of them were too old to do anything except to show the younger ones how to do it. Whether or not this is a degeneracy in the muscular development of our people is hard to tell, but the fact remains that American farmers are not down and if there is any way on top of earth to get the grain out they will do it. Ordinarily they object to plowing the corn when the ground is wet, but this year all the rules of farming have been upset, for the only farmers who have any corn, are the ones who have plowed the ground in its wet condition."

BIDS ARE ASKED.

Sealed bids will be received by the county commissioners of Morgan county for the construction of two concrete bridges located on the county line between Scott and Morgan counties, near Neelyville, until the hour of two p. m. Saturday, July 17, 1915. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check for the sum of $50, payable to said commissioners. Each bid must be marked "Proposal for Highway Bridge Work", and addressed to the county clerk, Jacksonville, Illinois. For plans and further information address L. O. Baldwin, Jacksonville, Illinois.

TO REDUCE THE GAS BILL.

Pin the following suggestions near the gas stove, carefully follow, and then note the gas bill lessening: Remember matches are cheaper than gas.

Have all food ready for the blaze before lighting the burner.

Never use a large burner when a small one will do.

Remember a small blue flame gives more heat and burns less gas than a high yellow flame.

After the water on the vegetables reaches the boiling point, turn gas down. Slow boiling cooks just as well and takes less gas than fast boiling.

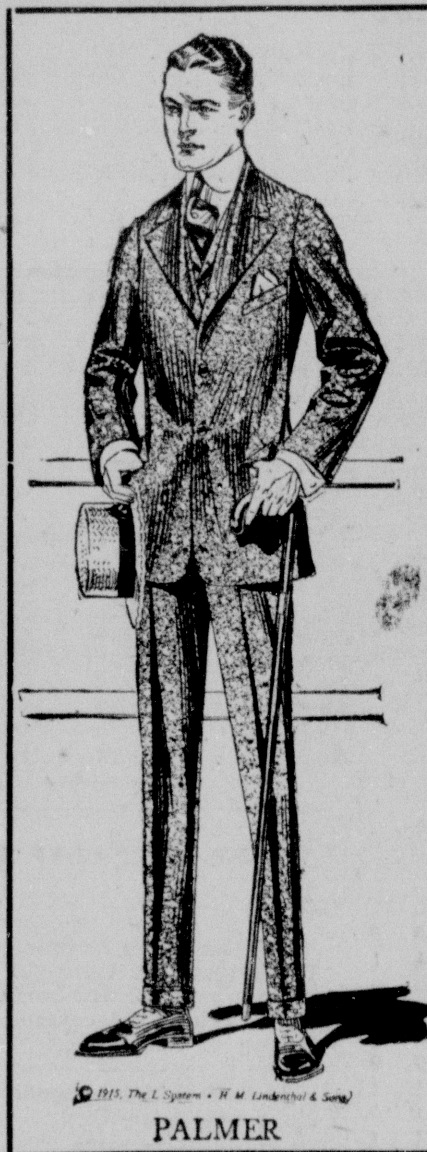

A strip of asbestos pinned around a burner causes the heat to concentrate on the cooking. Instead of scattering into the atmosphere. Place a colander in saucepan where potatoes and other vegetables are boiling. In colander set sauce or soupplate containing pudding or any left over vegetables you wish to reheat. Then set saucepan cover in colander. Thus no extra gas is required for heating left-overs.

Set gravy to be rewarmed on top of any boiling vegetable, cover and it will heat thoroughly. When having a roast, do all the cooking in the oven. Any article that requires boiling will cook just as well in the oven.

Salted nuts can be cooked just as well in a popcorn hopper as in an oven.

LOTS OF CATARRHAL FEVER.

There are a great many cases of catarrhal fever among horses throughout the county at the present time. The disease is affecting animals in various ways. It seems to attack the weakest or sears in a horse. In some instances the kidneys, while in a state of S. S. action is bad. The are being kept busy.

NOTABLE BIRTHDAYS TODAY.

July 11.
Dr. Arthur von Briesen, famous New York lawyer, identified with the Legal Aid Society there and head of the National Alliance of Legal Aid Societies, is 72 years old today. He came in boyhood from Germany and served four years in the Civil War on the volunteer engineering corps. He then completed his law studies, was admitted to practice in 1868, and has been since then active in practice. He was born in Brokendorf, Germany, July 11, 1843, and was educated privately there until he came to America in 1858. He has been decorated with the Cross of the Legion of Honor by the French government and the Order of the Crown by Germany. He is a member of the bar association in America, and has been prominent in Republican political circles. Last spring he sought to resign from the famous Legal Aid society, which he had conducted so notably for twenty-five years. His sensitiveness led him to believe his German name would injure the standing of the society he had built up. He is universally respected, and his name was mentioned in one presidential message.

Target Tips and Hunting Helps by Alfred P. Lane

Following the Shooting Sport in Chicago.

A short time ago I spent a few days in Chicago in attendance upon the Sportsmen's Club of America. It was my first visit to that city and I fell in love with the place at once.

Chicago has a very live aggregation of shooting enthusiasts who are doing everything possible to boost the sport of shooting in all its branches.

I have always noticed that when a sporting goods dealer spends a little time and trouble on his shooting customers, the interest in the game is considerably stimulated. The Chicago dealers have given some thought to the "service" part of their business, which is undoubtedly quite an help to the shooters who have been and are working to advance the shooting game with such promising results.

Chicago is to be congratulated on a very successful tournament.

R. W. J., Brooklyn, N. Y.
After a shoot at the traps, want to clean my gun and put it away for two weeks or more. How do I do it? I have been using smokeless of the generic brand covered by the name "Dupont".

"A" replies to use hot water—follow with 3 in 1 oil.

"B" replies to use a dry brass cleaner and 3 in 1 oil.

"C" replies to use a dry brass cleaner and vaseline.

"D" replies to use ammonia and vaseline.

"E" replies to use kerosene, followed by ammonia and 3 in 1 oil.

"F" replies to use turpentine and follow with vaseline.

Now, if I were using the good reliable old black powder I would not have to ask for I have barrels—both rifle and gun—in perfect condition. One a birthday present in 1869. The six answers I have quoted are real, and each one claimed that the solvent used by the others positively injured the bore of the gun. My own experience has led me to think that dry cleaning or hot water did it satisfactorily.

Ans. The best method of cleaning a shotgun barrel is by using a good nitro solvent oil and a brass cleaner such as the Tomlinson or a wire bristle cleaner. If the barrel is scrubbed out with a brass cleaner soaked with a nitro solvent oil (plain oil is not satisfactory) then rub dry with rags, and again thoroughly oiled with a nitro solvent oil, the barrel may be left two weeks or very much longer without chance of rust. Use a nitro solvent oil. Do not use a plain oil or a nitro solvent which is not also a lubricant.

Would like to have some information on the following cartridge used with Colts New Service and .44 Smith & Wesson Special Revolvers, such as the accurate range and penetration of the .44-40, .45 Colts and .44 S. & W. Special cartridges. In the above named revolvers. If you do not have the information, possibly some of the readers may have information on this subject. Also how does the .44 Special Smith & Wesson Revolver compare with the .45 Colts New Service using same length of barrel?

Ans. The .44 S. & W. Special: Ballistics: Muzzle velocity 737 ft. seconds, muzzle energy, 296 ft. lbs. 44-40 muzzle velocity 1023 ft. seconds, muzzle energy, 469 ft. lbs. .45 Colt, muzzle velocity 800 ft. seconds, muzzle energy, 354 ft. lbs. The choice between the various arms is of course a matter of personal preference.

1. What governs the number of grooves, the twist of rifling and the depth and width of rifling grooves?

Ans. The velocity of the bullet, the weight of the bullet; its sectional density and the material of which it is made.

2. What is the relation of the twist to the velocity, energy, trajectory, accuracy, range, penetration and recoil?

Ans. Twist has nothing to do with

HINTS FOR THE CARE OF SHADE TREES.

Trees and shrubs are often planted and left to survive or perish, as circumstances determine. No farmer or gardener treats his crops in this way. After a young tree is planted, it requires watchful care for some time. It should be planted either late in the fall or early in the spring; in other words, while in the dormant winter condition. Arbor day comes too late in the season for this part of Illinois. The tree should be set in the ground at the level it had before it was transplanted. Water should be poured in the hole before the tree is placed. The hole should be of sufficient size to allow the roots to run out straight and not cramp them. The hole should then be filled with dirt, tramped in and thoroughly watered again. The tree should then be trimmed, the theory being that you cut away branches sufficient to compensate for the roots destroyed by transplanting. It is well for some time to keep the soil about the tree covered with grass cut from the lawn and to occasionally water it. Watch it and if necessary protect it by spraying against disease. Wherever the bark is broken, whether by trimming off branches or by accident, the break should be painted at once with a fairly heavy grade of coal tar, to which 10 per cent by volume of creosote has been added. In trimming trees, young or old, the branches should always be saved close to the trunk and then painted with coal tar and creosote.

Inspection of Wounds.
It is important to remember that an open wound on a tree, as elsewhere, is always liable to become infected. The terrible disease of pear blight, which attacks all trees that have pomeaceous or core fruits, e. g., apple, pear, hawthorn, mountain ash, etc., is a bacterial disease. The bacteria enter the tree through wounds and by the cell sap are rapidly transported from branch to branch. A tree attacked by this disease looks as if it had been swept by fire and its leaves look brown and scorched. This disease spreads with great rapidity, often destroying the tree in a single season. If taken early and thorough pruning of infected branches be done with carefully sterilized saws or knives, the cut ends of the branches coated with coal tar and creosote, the tree can usually be saved. Be sure to sterilize cutting instruments, as otherwise you may infect uninfected tissue with the bacteria carried over from infected tissue.

Elm Tree Infection.
Perhaps fall has induced elm trees on our streets from breaks in the bark of which a frothy, brownish sap is exuding. On examination the tissues near the wound would be found decayed and filled in with white, thread-like worms. This is another case of wound infection. The wound has often been caused by the trimming off of low-hanging branches. Nothing had been used to disinfect and close the wound. Often the wound has been caused by lightning striking a tree. The writer remembers a wound of this kind running as a line from the top to near the bottom of the trunk, with the sap oozing out along the entire length. In the spring one of the saw flies that is looking for a spot to lay her eggs lays them in this wound. When the eggs hatch and the larvae (worms) emerge, they are most fortunately situated. They thrive at the expense of the tree. How shall this be treated? The rotten wood should be dug out to the hard wood below and the bark cut back until the edge of the bark has a green color. This means that all of the dead tissue has been removed and the green line that one sees is the growing tissue. Then paint the entire cut with coal tar and creosote and allow it to heal. If you have gotten at the trouble soon enough, the bark will heal over the wound. But get at it, for otherwise in all probability decay will eat its way into the tree, furnishing a line of entrance for various kinds of borers, to the attacks of which a tree must in time succumb.

Gall Growths.
Perhaps you have hackberry trees, the leaves of which are covered with pointed green growths standing close to each other. These growths are galls formed by a plant louse. They bring about a shortening and thickening of internodes in the stem and have distorted places on the branches bristling with twigs. The effect on old branches is that of witches' brooms. In some way, not understood, the laying of eggs by the insect stimulates an enormous and rapid growth of plant cells, which we call a gall, and on which the larvae feed. Strange to say, aside from deforming the branches, the tree does not seem to be injured by the galls.

Another peculiar type of galls is found on hickory leaves. A leaf, so affected, looks as if it had on it brown disks about a quarter of an inch in diameter. This also does no serious harm. Other familiar galls are the rose gall, a large moss-like growth on the stems of roses and the willow gall, transforming the end of the stem into an effect like a large bud. All are familiar with oak galls. None of these are injurious.

Types of Tree Borers.
There are many types of tree borers. They should be scraped from the tree with the rotten wood and be destroyed. After all the decayed material has been removed from the tree, treat the entire cleaned surface with coal tar and creosote. If the hole is large the wound should be cauterized with a blow pipe flame. Then it should be filled in with cement.

Mr. Flint of the State University advises great care in the practice of scraping the bark from the trunks of trees. In fact he considers it a dangerous remedy. He felt that some of Jacksonville's trees recent-

Let It Stand Between Your Motor and Deterioration

Excessive carbon, scored cylinders, "knocking," power wasted in friction—all of which over-load your motor—are destructive, costly, unnecessary troubles.

Hundreds of thousands of motorists in the middle west alone—all won to POLARINE in the last seven years—know the protection, the efficiency and the pleasure resulting from the scientifically perfect lubricating oil.

Do YOU know this oil?

—an oil sufficiently fluid to lubricate and completely cover the remotest friction surface.

—an oil of maximum durability and correct lubricating body at any motor speed or temperature.

—an oil that pays back its cost, not only by saving repairs but by maintaining a high re-sale value for your car.

Why experiment?—when the greatest of all specialists in matters of lubrication have experimented for you. Use Polarine.

—Mister Squeegie

Now and then even a tail-end baseball team will play a wonderful game.

The pitcher will have everything on the ball, everybody will bat well and field faultlessly, and luck will break right all the way.

But the good games that come once or twice a month are not the ones on which the standing of the cellar champions is figured.

The team that stays up in the first division must play well day after day.

So it is with tires. Their excellence is not based on the extraordinary mileage that the occasional one gives.

It is the general average of service that must be considered in estimating tire values.

Diamond Squeegie Tread Tires are in favor, not because of the performance of an occasional one, but because of the superior merits of more than 99% of them.

WORLD'S MARKET NEWS

PROSPECTS FOR INCREASED NEW CROP MOVEMENT BRINGS DECLINE

Market Closes Steady at a Drop of 1 to 2 Cents—Corn and Oats Suffer Losses.

Chicago, July 10.—Prospects for a heavily increased movement of the new crop brought about sharp declines today in the values of wheat. The market closed steady, but 1 to 2 cts under last night. Corn suffered a loss of 1 1/2 cts to 1 1/4 cts, and oats 1/2 cts to 1/4 cts. In provisions the outcome varied from 3 1/2 cts decline to a rise of 5c.

Reports that threshing was being rushed in southern Illinois and that cutting was general as far north as Bloomington made the bulls in the wheat market decidedly uneasy and led to selling on a liberal scale. The ensuing break in prices forced the execution of many stop-loss orders. Lowest quotations of the day were reached after word came that cash wheat in St. Louis had suffered a break of 8c to 12c a bushel on account of enlarged receipts and because of amplified arrivals expected next week.

Corn fell in sympathy with wheat and owing to somewhat improved crop reports. Shipping demand was not so active as heretofore of late. Oats averaged lower, influenced mainly by other cereals. The recent urgent call from the seaboard was missing.

"MORNING GLANCES"

(By Gosh)

The American league race tightened the past week. This was caused not only by the White Sox slipping but by the Boston Red Sox spurting. The Red Sox in the series with Washington started on a mad upward dash for the pennant. They went fast and looked like they were slated for the top. However, Detroit stopped them on Friday while the White Sox won which still leaves the Bowdoin men in front this morning. Yesterday the Red Sox beat the Tigers while the Chicago-Washington game was stopped by rain. The race is surely a great one and no team can slip up much or it will drop fast. New York is in fourth place with Washington fifth. The Senators received a bad set-back when they lost six games to Boston. Philadelphia, St. Louis and Cleveland are in the order named. The invasion of the west by the eastern teams probably will be the crucial test in the American. The teams are closely bunched and if Boston can hold her own on the western trip she is likely to win the flag when she gets back home.

In the National league the race as a whole is even closer than it is in the American. Only one hundred and twelve points separate the Cubs in first place from the Braves in the last place. Thus it may easily be seen that the Braves are in even a better position than they were last year on account of the closeness of the race.

The Cubs are still in front by a small margin. There is just five points between them and the Phillies in second place. The Phillies with the assistance of Alexander are going great guns and are likely to climb to the top at any moment. Brooklyn is holding third place closely pursued by St. Louis. Pittsburgh, New York, Cincinnati and Boston follow in the order named. The Giants have been playing some good ball of late and they may be heard from before the end of July.

St. Louis tops the Federal league this morning with Kansas City as her rival. These teams traded places several times a few days ago. However, St. Louis has been on top for some time now. Only eight points divide St. Louis and Kansas City. Chicago has pulled up and is in third place with Pittsburgh fourth. Newark, Brooklyn, Buffalo and Baltimore follow in the order named. The Buffalo team the last week has been playing great ball and if she keeps up the gait may be up among the leaders by August 1. Stranger things have happened.

Brooklyn beat the Cubs a double header yesterday. This makes three straight the Dodgers have won from the Cubs and a total of eleven out of the last twelve games they have played. The Dodgers are only three games behind the Cubs and if they keep up their clip will soon be on top. It would be funny to see Brooklyn win a pennant.

St. Louis and Boston broke even in a double header yesterday, the Cardinals winning the first and the Braves the second. In the second game Davis held St. Louis to three hits.

New York beat Cincinnati again yesterday. Doyle was responsible for the visitors getting two three-baggers and driving in five runs.

Philadelphia again beat Pittsburgh Saturday. The game was a pitchers battle between DeMaree and Adams with honors even until the seventh. In that inning the Phillies got to Adams and scored three runs.

The White Sox-Washington game was stopped in the fifth by rain. It had settled into a pitchers battle between Benz and Johnson. Benz had allowed four hits and Johnson two. However, one of the two was a triple by Benz and he scored on Liebhold's infield out. Fournier got the other hit off of Johnson.

Forster pitched steady ball for Boston while Dubuc and Cavet were both hit hard and the Red Sox beat Detroit 6 to 3. Kavanaugh and Foster both hit home runs over the left field fence.

St. Louis beat Philadelphia yesterday by a score of 4 to 3. The victory of St. Louis was largely due to the pitching of Hamilton.

Caldwell held Cleveland to five hits Saturday and New York won by a score of 4 to 0. Caldwell struck out Smith and Barbare in the ninth with the bases full and ended the game.

MR. RUSSEL STOPS ALL STATE PAYMENTS

TREASURER PUTS LID ON CASH-BOX BECAUSE OF FERGUS SUIT.

No More Cash Until Exact Knowledge of Appropriate Funds Affected Is Had by Attorney General—Inheritance Tax Department Employees and Others Notified That Their Appointments Are Revoked Pending Court Finding in the Case—Hearing Not to Be Had Until September.

State Treasurer Andrew Russel will take no chances in paying money from the state treasury. As soon as he was notified of the suit brought against the state by Attorney F. A. Munro of Chicago in the name of John B. Fergus, Mr. Russel stopped payment on warrants drawn against all funds. He took this action because of the uncertainty as to just what funds are attacked in the injunction asked, for the bills filed are extensive and it will take time for Attorney General Lacey and the state officials most interested to fully determine what funds are affected.

An amended petition, it is said, is to be filed, and thus there is the possibility of still other funds being questioned. The only safe action, therefore, was to cut off all payments, and Mr. Russel said last night that early in the week payment can be resumed from appropriations except from the specific funds attacked in the bills.

Inquiries Are Many.

The announcement of the suspension of the payment of all state funds brought a vast amount of inquiries from all over the state, as various banks had warrants received in the course of business. In a number of instances the banks filed protest, but Mr. Russel said that this action was of no avail and that a bank might as well protest a government greenback as to protest a state warrant. One banker in a northern city telephoned that he had just cashed a warrant for $2,500 paid on a personal injury claim authorized in the appropriation and asked if the state treasurer's office could not protect this matter in some way, but the answer was a decided no.

As a further result of the suit, state house watchmen to the number of 27, who are appointed jointly by the secretary of state and the state treasurer were notified that they were released from service, as the funds from which their salaries are paid is questioned in the suit filed. A permanent injunction has been asked by Attorney Munro and the hearing therefore will not be until the first Monday in September in the Sangamon county circuit court, about seven weeks hence. If Munro makes good his contentions at that time, then the state secretary and treasurer would be personally responsible for the salaries of the watchmen. The positions of some of the employees in Mr. Russel's office have been jeopardized in the same way and they were given notice yesterday that they remain in their positions at their own risk.

May Close Inheritance Tax Office. Still another effect of the suit has been the necessity of sending notices to the employees of the inheritance tax department in Chicago and Springfield, managed in connection with the state treasurer's office, that their appointments are revoked pending settlement of the suit. In Springfield the duties of watchmen at the state house were performed last night by clerks, although most of the watchmen were on hand. It is probable that the inheritance tax office attaches will also decide to continue to work at their own risk, but there is a strong possibility that later on these offices will be closed until the result of the suit is known. If this happens the state will be particularly the employees are daily engaged in investigation work which brings in thousands of dollars to the treasury.

Mr. Russel, since assuming office, has used the greatest care in the payment of warrants and when there has been any question he has held up payment until legally certain of the right to make payment. After the so-called salary grab bill was signed by Governor Dunne, the state treasurer took unusual care in paying warrants. After consultation with the state auditor that official decided to issue the warrants against the incidental expense fund and each legislator when he received the warrant from the treasurer signed a receipt showing that the money was paid on account of expense incurred by the legislator in the transaction of official duties. The suit Mr. Munro filed has certainly had a far reaching effect and until the court ruling is made some departments of the state's business are certain to be greatly unsettled. But meantime there is no proper course for the state treasurer other than to stop all payments until absolutely certain that he has full authority for such payments and that he is taking action which will not involve him or his bondsmen.

JACKSONVILLE VISITED BY HEAVY WIND AND RAIN

Storm Plays Havoc With Trees and Growing Crops—Barn Taken From Foundation at Franklin and Farmers Lose Horses.

Jacksonville and vicinity was visited by a heavy wind and rain, storm Saturday at the noon hour and at 10 o'clock in the evening, the rainfall was even greater than that of the morning hour. Throughout the city the wind played havoc with the trees and in a number of instances several were blown down and limbs were scattered everywhere. On South Church street, in front of Academy hall, a large limb fell across the street and Mrs. J. H. Gorman and her sister, Miss Lillian Rosenthal, had just enlivened from their rig a few moments before the crash came. On account of the number of wires down the Jacksonville Railway and Light company had the power shut off in several sections of the city.

The telephone lines suffered from the storm and several of the smaller places were cut off from communication. Accompanying the wind and rain, was considerable lightning. It was reported that lightning had struck the house of L. B. Trotter, northeast of the city. On the John Jordan farm, in the Ebenezer neighborhood, the wind blew the roof from a barn, destroyed a shed, uprooted trees and scattered gates about the premises. Four young people who were riding in the south part of the city, it was reported, were stunned by a bolt of lightning.

In the Franklin neighborhood the wind blew the barn of Joseph Stager from its foundation and trees were badly damaged through that section of the country. Grover Caldwell and J. L. Hill, each had a horse killed by lightning. Supt. Todd at the County Home, reported an unusually large amount of rain fall.

A large amount of damage was done in the farming districts of the county, especially north and west of Jacksonville. The principal damage was to oat fields and on many farms the oats were beaten down practically flat and indications are that there will be a good many acres where it will be practically impossible to cut them with a binder. In such fields, too, any further rains will in all probability result in causing the grain to rot before it can be gathered in any way.

NOTICE TO LIGHT AND POWER CONSUMERS.

A. H. T. A. WILL HAVE PICNIC EXCURSION

Plan Is to Go to Havana and Then Take Boat to Beardstown—Committee of Arrangements Named.

A meeting of the Anti-Horse Thief association was held at the court house Saturday for the purpose of arranging details of the annual meeting. There was a large attendance of members and there was a discussion as to whether this year a picnic should be held at Nichols park or the custom of having an excursion followed.

It was finally decided that it would not be practical to have the picnic, and instead a committee was appointed to arrange for a rail and boat excursion to be run about the middle of August. It is the intention to go by rail to Havana and then take a steamer to Beardstown and return. The committee on arrangements consists of Perry J. White, C. A. Rowe, C. S. Black, Stansfield Baldwin, A. C. Reid and J. K. Long and they are empowered to make all arrangements and to select a date as near the middle of August as will suit the owners of the steamer which is to be chartered for the occasion. The A. H. T. A. excursions in the past have always been well managed and the general rule will no doubt be followed this year.

WILLIAM N. DARR DIED APOPLECTIC STROKE

Deceased Had Unusual War Record and Was One of the Oldest Railroad Switchmen in the U. S.

William Nelson Darr of 1224 Park Place, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Bernard Gause on North Church street at 5:45 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Ten days ago Mr. Darr suffered a stroke of apoplexy and this was the cause of death.

The deceased was born in Jersey county, July 29, 1843. He grew to young manhood in that county. When the Civil War broke out Mr. Darr enlisted in the 14th Illinois Infantry, General John M. Palmer's regiment. He was three years and eleven months in the service. Seven months and seventeen days of that time was spent in Andersonville prison. After returning from the war Mr. Darr took up the occupation of railroad switchman and was the oldest switchman in the United States in the point of continuous service. His last work was with the Wabash railroad. He was a member of the U. O. R. M. Switchman's Union and G. A. R.

He was married to Miss Alice Paul January 1, 1867. To this union five children were born, three sons, Jacob, Ralph and Elmer preceded him in death. There survive his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Margaret Toomey and Mrs. Bernard Gause, both of this city. There also survive six grandchildren, Bernard Gause, Jr., Lee Toomey and Eugene, Philip, George and Fred Darr all of this city. One half sister, Lucinda Darr, of Greenridge, also survives.

METHODISTS WILL CONSIDER CHANGE

JACKSONVILLE DISTRICT MAY BE SACRIFICED IN LESSENING NUMBER.

Committees Also to Report at Meeting in Springfield Over the Consolidation of the Central Illinois
Conference and the Illinois Conference.

The reduction of the number of districts in Illinois Methodist conference by the elimination of two, one of them, possibly the Jacksonville district, is to be one of the most important matters to come before the thirty-second annual Illinois conference which meets in Springfield September 8, according to rumors throughout the various districts. At the last meeting of the conference a committee was appointed from each of the central Illinois conference and the Illinois conference, looking toward the consolidation of the two. This has been talked about for some time.

Bishop McDowell May Remain.
The problem of changing the districts has been one discussed for two years and some have advanced the idea that this being the last year of Bishop McDowell's superintendency of the conference it was thought he would wish to conclude the matter before giving up the responsibility. Also, the six year terms of two of the district superintendents expire this year, and less attention than usual will be required for the making of appointments, owing to the departure of two or three ministers from the conference. There is no certainty as to Bishop McDowell's leaving, however, as he is as likely to stay longer as the minister of some church is to remain.

There Are Now Eight Districts.
As the conference is now there are eight districts as follows: Jacksonville, Quincy, Springfield, Decatur, Bloomington, Campaign, Mattoon and Danville. It is proposed to re-divide the territory of the conference into six districts, but the problem, of course, is to decide upon which of the existing districts must be dissolved.

Mention has been made of Jacksonville, Mattoon, Campaign and Decatur.

General Conference Delegates.
In addition to the re-appointment of the district the question of delegates to the general conference are to be elected from the ministers and from the layman.

Rev. F. A. McCarty of the Jacksonville district has been mentioned as one of the delegates, also Rev. J. W. Van Cleave, superintendent of the Decatur district, President Kemp of Wesleyan university, J. C. Baker, pastor of Trinity church, Urbana. Others mentioned are Rev. T. N. Ewing and Supt. B. F. Shipp. There have been various rumors as to the changes of ministers. The churches in Clinton and Hoopston will have to be assigned pastors because the present ones are removed from the conference. The sessions of the conference at any rate promise to be of unusual interest this year and it is expected that a large number of the laymen will be in attendance at the various sessions.
